

ALL-Ways™ Handicapping Software
Windows 7 Compatibility

ALL-Ways™ Handicapping Software is 100% compatible with both the 32 bit and 64 bit versions of Windows 7

Installation Instructions

Depending on a number of different Windows 7 situations such as a new computer versus an upgraded computer, it may be necessary to run the installation setup of ALL-Ways Software in Compatibility Mode. Even if this is the case, everything will be the same when you actually run ALL-Ways. You just run ALL-Ways normally, not in any kind of special mode. Here are the installation steps we recommend:

Step 1: Download the latest version of ALL-Ways Software from the BRIS Web site

Keep track of the download file name and the folder into which you download the file.

Step 2: Normal Installation

In the download folder, double left click on the downloaded file name. This will start the installation process. Just follow the simple instructions during the installation process.

If you get one or more messages that you are about to overwrite a newer version of a file with an older version, simply accept the option of keeping the current (newer) version of the file.

If you do not receive any error messages, the installation is complete and you are done. If, however, you do receive some kind of an error message that forces the installation process to abort, then go on to Step 3 below.

Step 3: Compatibility Mode Installation

Note: This installation step is only required if you receive an error message in the Normal Installation described in Step 2 above.

- a) In the download folder, right click on the downloaded file name and select PROPERTIES.
- b) Then under Compatibility, check the box “Run this program in Compatibility Mode” and select the Windows 2000 option. Also, if you are given the option, check the box “Run this program as an administrator”.
- c) Now click APPLY and run the Normal Installation described above in Step 2 above.
